

The Department of Spanish and Portuguese
presents

The Literary Legacy of Álvaro Mutis:

A PANEL TO CONSIDER THE WORK OF ONE OF COLOMBIA'S MOST DISTINGUISHED WRITERS

PANELISTS:

Edith Grossman

Premier translator of Mutis's works as well as those of many others

Charlotte Rogers

Assistant Professor of Spanish, George Mason University

Jonathan Tittler

Professor Emeritus of Spanish, Rutgers University-Camden and noted literary translator

MODERATOR:

Roberto González Echevarría

Sterling Professor of Hispanic & Comparative Literature, Yale University

Edith Grossman will discuss the challenges and satisfactions of working with Mutis (1923-2013); the Latin Americanist literary critic Charlotte Rogers will address the enduring values and contemporary relevance of Mutis's work, and Latin Americanist literary scholar Jonathan Tittler will consider his experiences as a translator of Colombian and Peruvian authors (most recently, Isaac Goldemberg) within the wider context of U.S.-Latin American literary relations.

Thursday April 2nd at 4:30pm

Luce Hall Auditorium, 34 Hillhouse Avenue

A reception will follow in the Common Room

WWW.YALE.EDU/MACMILLAN/LAIS

Sponsored by the Department of Spanish and Portuguese with support from the Council on Latin American and Iberian Studies at the MacMillan Center.

